Website Header Menu

Logged in vs Not Logged In

Hey Rick, we would like these small changes done to the site to improve user flow during their site experience. It can be broken down into Logged in vs Not Logged In. If you have questions about the way it is broken down below, let me know.

Logged In

Home Page	Events	How it Works	About Whistles	Logout	Account

We want to switch the order to 'How it Works' before 'About Whistles'

We would like the 'Account Page' to have:
1. The username
2. User's Email
3. Change Password
4. Option to deactivate membership

Not Logged In

Home Page	Events	How it Works	About Whistles	Login

We want to switch the order to 'How it Works' before 'About Whistles'

When user chooses 'Events' the user should be redirected to 'Login'. Note: There are many pathways on the site to 'Events', if a user is not logged in they should be redirected to 'Login' when attempting to get to 'Events'

On 'Login' Page, there should be a 'Need to Register' link. The 'Need to Register' link should redirect users to the 'Register Page'. This should be near the 'Forgot Password' link.
